of Locomotor Dept.
S. Nylasam, Driver, was an official whose name was included in the list of dismissals forwarded by the Railway Secretary for the half year ending 30th June 1922. The reason for which he was dismissed as stated in the statement was for capsizing the engine of No. 21 up train on 1st April 1922 by rash driving. The Railway Secretary was asked, at per orders of the then Asst Secretary, to forward the papers ~~relating~~ leading to the dismissal of the Driver Nylasam and to state whether the conduct of the official was so serious as to proscribe his employment in any department of Govt. The Railway Secretary in his letter No. 1491 dated 19th December 1922 states that the Driver in question was dismissed from service for causing a serious accident through an error of judgment and not for misconduct & his offence was not such as to proscribe his employment in any department of Govt. The connected papers ~~can~~ have been put up in another connection will be sent in due course.

As per Railway Secretary's letter the name of the Driver Hylasam has to be omitted in the Consolidated Statement of dismissals prepared in the Sect. as the effect of issuing such a Consolidated Statement is to debar reemployment of dismissed officials in any department of Govt. by Heads of departments & Deputy Commissioners of Dts. The consequence of the omission of the name in question in the Consolidated Statement of dismissals may after lapse of some years lead to his seeking his reemployment in the same department from which he was dismissed but of which ~~no~~ there ^{will be} no authoritative record to check or verify his applicant's past history by the officer under whom he seeks employment. The present ^{case} raises the question of the eligibility of a ~~an~~ person dismissed from one department for an appointment in another department ~~to which~~ ^{and}.

his total unfitness or undesirability of his employment in a particular department. The existing orders on the subject do not provide for treatment of cases ^{like the one} under question. It is therefore submitted for orders whether another statement showing the names of persons dismissed from one department whose reemployment in the same department is undesirable should be issued or a remark to this effect may be made in the Consolidated Statement of dismissals. Their names may be included in the Consolidated Statement and a remark against their names may be made as to the department or departments in which their reemployment is undesirable.

of judgment and not for misconduct. That the driver was guilty only of an error of judgment and not of rashness out and out might have been clear to the Secretary from a careful perusal of the records and explanation offered. The records have however not come.

59) From a perusal of the G.O. of the 20th March 1920 it is clear that only dismissals not eligible for re-employment have to go into the list of dismissed officials. The other G.O. explains what precautions employing officers have to take when re-employing officials removed from service.

60) If the driver in question has to be given an opportunity for re-employment his name has to be omitted from the list

If as observed in the Fort and all sorts of removals are mentioned in the list the

as to the exact cause of removal.

62) The main point is this. There are cases in which a man is dismissed for a particular defect or weakness which will never do in the particular dept. in which he is employed, or an allied department, but will not matter at all in other ~~dept.~~ — perhaps loss reaching — departments of service. Kailasam's error of judgment ~~was~~ ^{might have} ~~been~~ ^{caused} killed a hundred persons in a train smash, or caused ~~a~~ very serious loss of life or money if he had ~~been~~ ^{was} an electric operator. But he wdr. be absolutely safe as a typist or a subordinate ministerial official —

63)

To omit his ^{name} from the list of dismissed offrs. wdr. be to run the risk of his being re-employed in the same or a similar department.
To include him without any difference or remark

why he to associate his name
with ^{those of} cheats or convicts, & bar for ever his reemployment in any Dept. of Govt.

64) Under these circumstances it seems necessary ~~to~~ either to ^{include} ~~add~~ such names in a supplementary list (of partial proscription) or to ^{have the departments} enter in the remarks column ^{clearly} that the man is ^{not} eligible for reemployment only in such & such departments.

65) If approved a suitable draft

Read: -

(1) Chief Electrical Engineer's letter No.4946 dated 18th August 1920 to the Secretary to Government, P.W.Department, reporting on the defalcation in the office of the Superintendent, Bangalore power and Lighting-

(2) G.O.No.Fl.130-33 dated 28th August 1920 appointing Mr.K.S.Aiyar, Incorporated Accountant, to audit the accounts and furnish a full report-

(3) Letters dated 26th, 29th October and 2nd November 1920 submitting his final reports on the results of the investigation-

(4) Chief Electrical Engineer's letter No.Cl.91 dated 3/4th May 1920 on the liability of the officials involved in this case.

Order No.E.D.S.313-16 dated 16th January 1922.

In August 1920, the Chief Electrical Engineer reported that, while comparing the entries in the Treasury Pass Book and the Engineer's register of passed bills of the B.P.L. office, it was found that the entry in the latter against a certain bill was Rs 268-12-0 instead of Rs 2,268-12-0 as entered in the Treasury pass book. The latter figure was found to be the correct one after verification of bills in the Comptroller's office. At the same time, the monthly accounts were being compiled and it was seen that the debit to stock in the cash abstract book did not tally with the abstract of stock receipts furnished by the store-keeper. A further examination showed that the materials shown in the bill were not received in the stores at all and that the pass order had been made out on spurious bills. A detailed investigation brought to light a series of similar bills orders had been passed without the materials being received in store. The initials and signatures of certain officers and officials dealing with the bills had been forged though the pass orders had been signed by the Acting Superintendent. Suspicion fell on the Accounts clerk Manikkan, who in his statement before the Chief Electrical Engineer admitted his guilt. He was handed over to the police.

As the fraudulent transactions extended for over a period of a year, Government considered it desirable to subject the accounts of the office to a thorough outside audit and accordingly engaged the services of Mr. K. Subramanya Aiyar, Incorporated Accountant, for settling the matter and furnishing a report giving the causes that led to the perpetration of fraud, etc. Mr. K. S. Aiyar furnished his final report dealing ~~xxxx~~ exhaustively with the responsibilities of different officers and officials of the Electrical Department and also prepared briefs on the fraudulent pass orders for the use of the Advocate General in the criminal prosecution against the clerk. These investigations disclosed that the clerk had colluded with Batcha Sahab, chief of the firm, Batcha Sahab and Sons.

The cases against Manikkan, the Accounts clerk, and Batcha Sahab ended in their convictions. Manikkan was sentenced to ~~three~~ 3 years' rigorous imprisonment and a fine of Rs 1,700 and Batcha Sahab to 2 years' rigorous imprisonment and a fine of Rs 2,500.

The total payments for stores not supplied on pass orders commencing from 20th June 1919 to 7th July 1920 amount to Rs 41,342-4-1.

Government after carefully considering the responsibilities and liabilities of the officers and officials of the Electrical Accounts and Treasury Departments that contributed towards such heavy defalcations are now pleased to pass the following orders:-

Manikkan, -

He was the accounts clerk in the P. D. L. office. He was in charge of bill registration and was responsible for the correctness of the arithmetical calculations in bills and passed them on to the Accountant and Superintendent for further disposal. He commenced by altering the figures of quantities supplied in genuine bills and increased the claims preferred in them. When payment was ordered on such bills he inserted fresh items of goods not supplied. When these were not noticed or detected by the B.P.L. office or the Chief Electrical Engineer's office, he was emboldened to forge on bills the initials of the receiving clerk, the accountant, the officials and the assistant to the Chief Electrical Engineer with the exception of that of Mr. Ayya who signed whatever papers that were placed before him. He also received the cash at the Treasury passing off as one Ramasawmy in whose favour he himself endorsed the pass orders as if by the firms concerned-

As noted already, he has been convicted in the criminal case against him and sentenced to rigorous imprisonment.

Mr.D.V.Ayya.-

He was at the time acting Superintendent, B.P.L. He signed 40 pass orders placed before him by Manikkam for spurious claims amounting to Rs 82,618-7-6. As a Head of that office he was responsible for the proper accounting and the correctness of store articles. Without satisfying himself even on a single occasion whether the articles pertaining to a particular bill had been ordered or had been received in stores or the corresponding entries had been made in stock register or questioning the corrections made in bills, &c., he simply signed all the pass orders placed before him by Manikkam. He was grossly neglectful of his duties which resulted in the heavy defalcations. His services were dispensed with from 5th May 1921-

He is now dismissed from the service.

Mr.N.N.Iyengar.- He was Technical Assistant to the Chief Electrical Engineer. He was for a short period placed in charge of the superintendent's office when Mr. Ayya was on special duty at job was in connection with the Viceregal visit. During this period, Mr. Iyengar signed two pass orders for spurious claims.

Also he was for some time performing the duties of the Office Assistant to the Chief Electrical Engineer, that pertains to the purchase and payment for stores during the period when Mr. G.E. Marudamohan was on leave and after his retirement until Mr. Vath joined the office. In that capacity he passed four fraudulent bills for payment. As an Office Assistant it was his duty to have verified the bills with the order and the rates. His failure in not doing so resulted in the bills for articles having been paid more than once. He ordered payment on four bills, the articles of which had not been supplied. The total amount comes to Rs 1,369-2-1.

Mr. M. Iyengar should be severely warned and the amount of Rs 1,369-2-1 should be recovered from him in monthly instalments of Rs 100.

Treasury Department

Mr. V. S. V. Treasury officer, Mr. S. Padmanatha Rao and Mr. A. Narain Rao, the Treasury Accountants, paid Rs 6,397-0-0 on the basis of forged pass orders though in one of the cases the forgery was a close imitation of Mr. M. Iyengar's signature and could have been detected. They also paid a pass order for Rs 4,119-2-3 drawn in favour of "A. Ratcha Satch and Son." on the receipt of "A. Ratcha Satch". These officers did not exercise the necessary scrutiny demanded of the Treasury officials.

Mr. Viraraj Urs should be censured.

Mr. S. Padmanatha Rao, Treasury Head Accountant, and Mr. A. Narain Rao, the Treasury Accountant, should be reduced by one grade for one year with effect from the date of this order.

Account Department - Mr. K. Venkataraniash was the Accountant of the office. The extremely perfunctory manner with which this Accountant managed the office resulted in Ganikam taking advantage of the situation and perpetrate the frauds. The usual verification of stock registers maintained would have brought to light the frauds. Mr. Venkataraniash should be compulsorily retired.

on a compassionate pension equal to the proportionate amount of pension he has earned-

Mr.A.Narasaiya was the manager of the Chief Electrical Engineer's office. As Chief Accountant of the office it was his duty to see that the purchase of materials billed for had been authorised by Chief Electrical Engineer. This he did not do nor did he examine the accounts of the Superintendent's office. He should be compulsorily retired on a compassionate pension equal to the proportionate amount of pension earned by him-

Mr.P.Narasimhaiya was the Cashier of the B.P.L. office and H.L.Naranaiengar, the Assistant Cashier. The pass order books should have been in custody of the cashier. but he allowed Manikkam to take them, write out the pass orders for signature of the officer and to deliver the same to parties which made it easy for Manikkam to do this mischief. Naranaiengar, though he knew that Manikkam was handling the book, did not bring the matter to the notice of the superintendent-

Mr.P.Narasimhaiya and H.L.Naraniengar should be dismissed from the service and their securities forfeited (if their contracts admit of it)-

Mr.H.Grinivasa Rao was the store Accountant of the Chief Electrical Engineer's office. If he had carried out the duties assigned to him in regard to the passing of the bills, such as, endorsing on office copies of purchase orders, particulars of bills passed, the comparison of claims preferred in bills with quantities and values in approved purchase orders, the payment for the same articles more than once would not have been possible. He was grossly negligent of his duties. He should be dismissed from the service-

Inspecting Staff.- Mr.C.Rajagopaliengar, who has since been allowed to retire on pension, personally test-audited the store accounts for the month of January 1920. It was his business to see if the kinds and quantities of articles charged for in the accounts of the month test-audited were shown in the store-keeper's accounts of daily receipts. If he had done so, the fraud could have been brought to light earlier. It has been a matter of serious negligence, and the pension should be reduced by Rs 25.
